GHG Harparkash College of Education for Women, Sidhwan Khurd, Ludhiana organised workshop on online assessment tools for students on 26-03-2022. Total number of 51 students joined this workshop on online assessment tools. Dr Ajay Kumar was the coordinator of this workshop and Mrs Manpreet Kaur, Assistant Professor GHG Harparkash College of Education for Women, was the resource person. Mrs. Manpreet Kaur made students aware about online assessment tool Edmodo. Mrs Manpreet Kaur demonstrated how we can use Edmodo online assessment software in teaching learning process. The teachers can create personalised tests, assessments and quizzes. Using Edmodo, teachers can create and share quizzes, assignments and other teaching material to enhance students' engagement. The student planner can help students and parents get quick answers to questions and stay current on class assignments and happenings. Apart from simplifying communication, Edmodo increases students' engagement with the class and beyond. What differentiates Edmodo from others is that it helps students create a personalised post and showcase assessment information to parents, instructors and classmates. After the first session students gave hand on experiences to how to create and share quizzes, assignments and other teaching material to enhance students' engagement.
