World Environment Day (05.06.2024)

World Environment Day was observed under Environment Education program and Punjab state council for science and technology supported by Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate change, Govt. of India at GHG Harparkash College of Education for Women, Sidhwan Khurd, Ludhiana by Eco-Club and NSS Unit on 5th June, 2024. A seminar on “Reduced use of single plastic use” was organized by NSS department and Eco-Club of the college. Dr. Manjeet Kaur, Associate Professor was the resource person of the seminar. She sensitized everyone that single-use plastic products like bags and bottles might be convenient, but they harm the environment and our health. They end up as litter or release harmful particles called micro-plastics. To reduce these negative effects, individuals, industries, and governments should work together. We can cut down on single-use plastic, improve recycling, and promote eco-friendly alternatives. 76 students celebrated the world environment day in the college.

A “Tree Plantation Drive” was also carried out in the college to create awareness and spread the message of saving our planet. An oath was also taken to look after the planted saplings, plant more and more trees and encourage others to do the same.

On the World Environment Day, College bagged Best Green Campus Initiatives Award from National Education Trust for demonstrating exceptional leadership and innovation in promoting sustainability and environmental consciousness within its campus community.
